١ المقدمة

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

The subject of النحو is defined as the following

- To know the function, order, and ending of words in a sentence
- To understand the Quran, Hadith, and Islamic sciences
- To attain the pleasure of Allah ﷻ

This book is meant to be a cursory supplement to the topic and is not remotely comprehensive. There are many approaches to study a subject, and a rigorous academic approach would involve taking multiple approaches to fully understand the topic. The general philosophy for this work is that through many worked-out examples, a student might be able to gain some familiarity with the topic and have a reference during their studies. The student is encouraged to try solving these sentences on their own before seeing the worked out examples. This approach is akin to studying math, where the more problems a student solves the more mastery they gain over fundamentals. It is important to note that this is just a supplement. A complete study of النحو requires study of a formal text under the guidance of a scholar.

I am by no means a scholar or learned person. These are examples I am parsing primarily for my own sake. If there are any mistakes, please email me at sman-zoor@umich.edu. This text was also a foray into latex as a possible tool to create documents such as this, using Arabic and English in one seamless document, replete with formatting. You can access the tex file or contribute here.

This text was made in reference to Nizam al-Nahw¹ and Tasheelul-Nahw², and as such I give examples based on that curriculum. I only include brief commentary where relevant. I pray Allah accepts these humble efforts.

The manner of analyzing sentences in النحو is a process called تركيب, literally 'parsing.' This is the process of analyzing each word in a sentence and determining its role and state. This is not a vain exercise - this determination directly impacts the meaning and understanding the reader derives from the sentence.

٢ الجمل

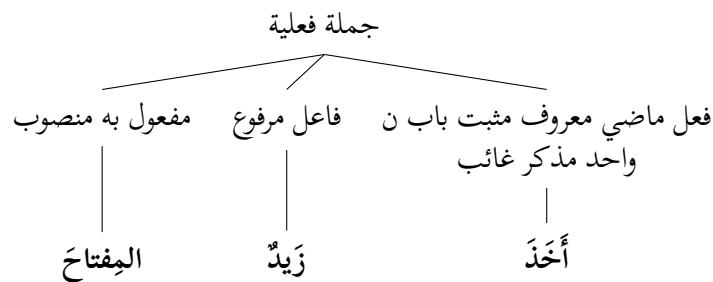

شكل ١.٢

الجملة are sentences. There are two types, الجملة الإنشائية and الجملة الخبرية (١.٢). Within the الجملة الخبرية, there are الجملة الاسمية الخبرية and الجملة الفعلية الخبرية.

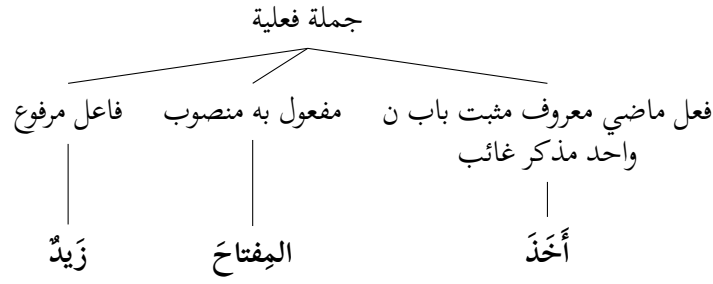

١.٢ الجملة الفعلية

١.١.٢ خلاصة الدرس

الجملة الفعلية is the most common form of a sentence in Arabic. It consists of a فعل (verb), a فاعل (doer of the verb), and a مفعول (object). The حال of the فاعل is always مرفوع and for the مفعول is always منصوب. The sentence must begin with a فعل to be considered a جملة فعلية. The order of the فاعل and مفعول does not matter.

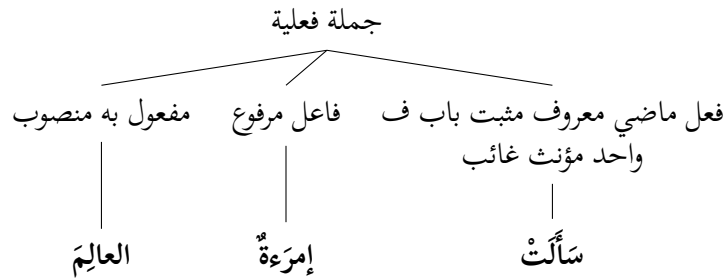

شكل ٢.٢: أَخَذَ زَيْدٌ المِفْتَاحَ
Zaid took the key.

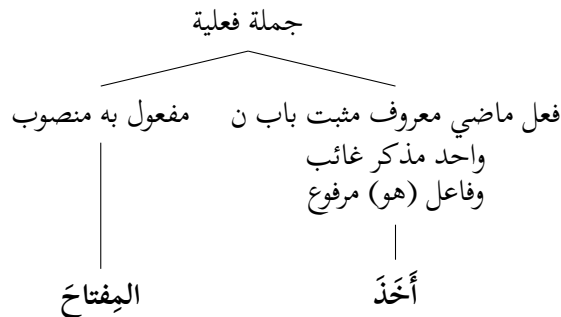

شكل ٣.٢: أَخَذَ المِفْتَاحَ زَيْدٌ
Zaid took the key.

The فاعل and فعل must match in gender.

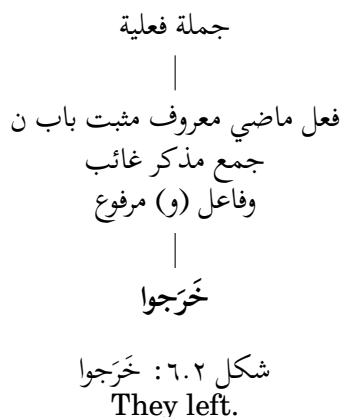

شكل ٤.٢: سَأَلَتْ إِمْرَأَةٌ الْعَالِمَ
The woman asked the scholar.
The فاعل and فعل are مؤنث

The فاعل can be hidden (مُسْتَتِر) inside the فعل.

شكل ٥.٢: أَخَذَ المِفْتَاحَ
He took the key.

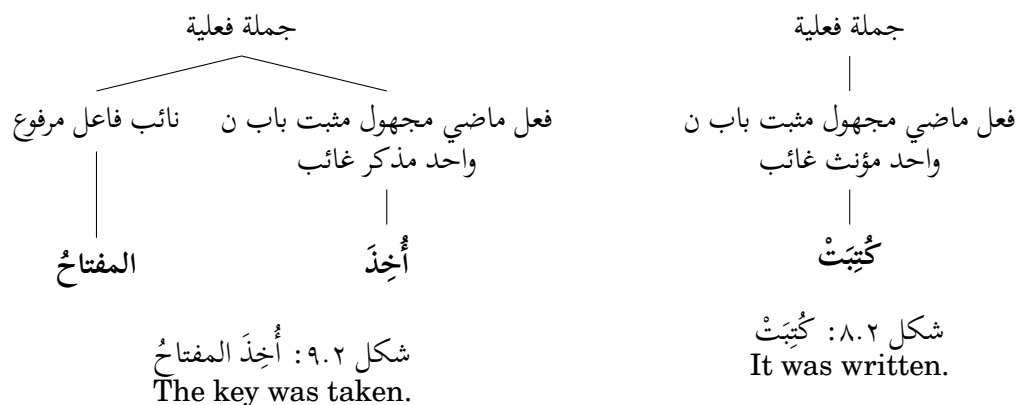

A مفعول is not necessary, depending on the فعل and the context. Some افعال can not take a مفعول, these are called لازم. Others may or may not, depending on context. These are called مُتَعَدِّي.

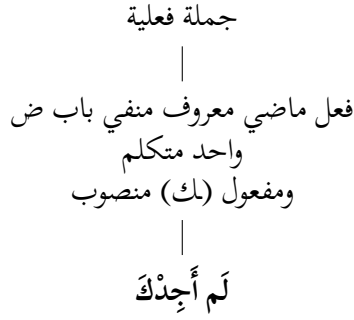

The فعل may be مُثَبِّت (positive) or مَنفِي (negative). Take, for example, مَشَى (He walked) and مَا مَشَى (He did not walk). If the verb is preceded by a حرف that negates it, such as لا or مَا, it will be مَنفِي. If there is no such preceding حرف, it will be مُثَبِّت.

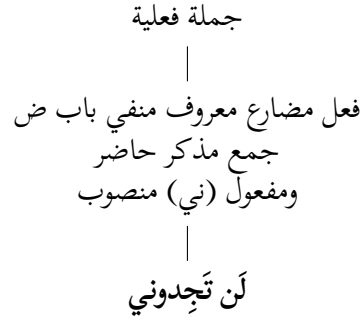

The فعل can be مَعْرُوف, where the فاعل is known (i.e. an active verb), or مَجْهُول, where the فاعل is unknown (i.e. a passive verb). In the case of فعل مجهول, the مفعول becomes the نائب فاعل and becomes مرفوع. The gender of the فعل must match the نائب فاعل.

The حال of a فعل can be نصب if a ناصبة حرف precedes it or it can be جزم if a جزم حرف precedes it. These modifiers may also change the meaning.

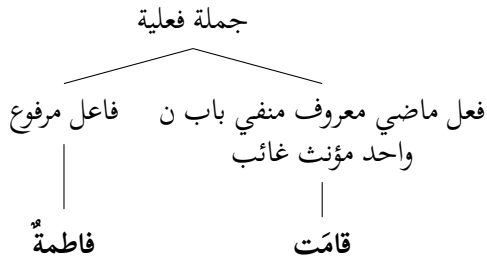

شكل ١١.٢: لَمْ أَجِدْكَ
I did not find you.

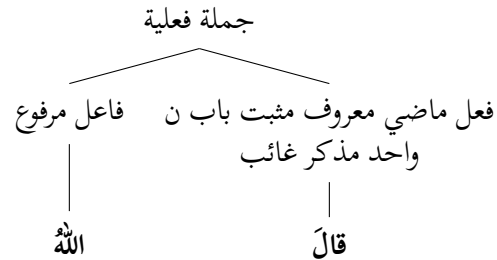

شكل ١٠.٢: لَنْ تَجِدُونِي
You all will never find me.

٢.١.٢ الامثال

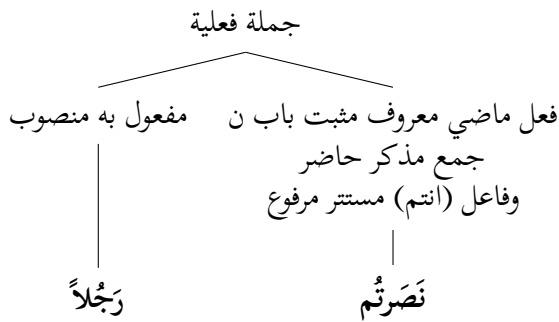

Below are worked examples encompassing these concepts.

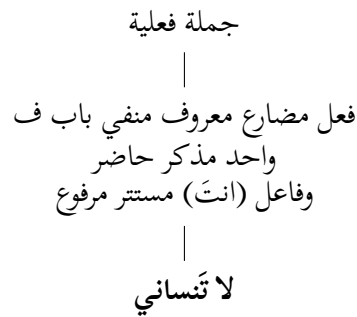

شكل ١٣.٢: قَامَتْ فَاطِمَةُ
Fatima stood.

شكل ١٢.٢: قَالَ اللَّهُ
Allah said.

شكل ١٥.٢: نَصَرْتُمْ رَجُلًا
You all helped a man.

شكل ١٤.٢: لا تَنْسَانِي
Don't forget me.

٢.٢ الجملة الاسمية

١.٢.٢ خلاصة الدرس

الجملة الاسمية is another simple sentence form in Arabic. It begins with an اسم and consists of a مُبتدأ (subject) and a خَبر (predicate). Both are in the حال of مرفوع. The rules of the الجملة الاسمية can be remembered by DINGeR:

- D The مبتدأ is معرفة (definite)
- I The خبر is نكرة (indefinite)
- N The مبتدأ and خبر match in number
- Ge The مبتدأ and خبر match in gender
- R The مبتدأ and خبر are in the state of رفع (raf')

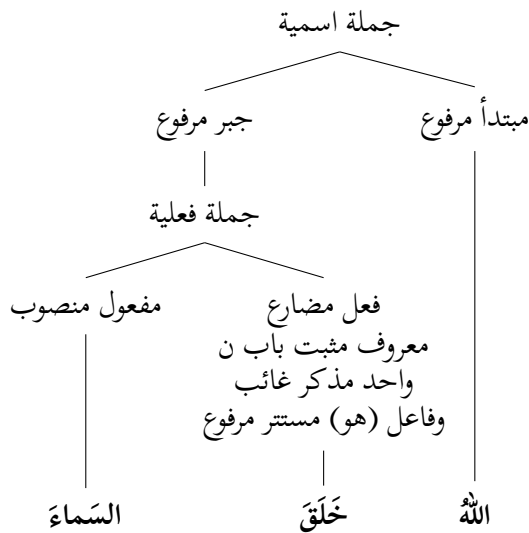

شكل ١٧.٢: فاطمة ذكية.
Fatima is smart.

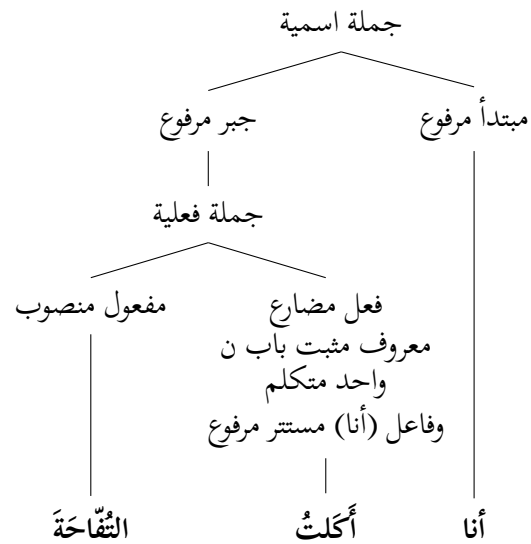

شكل ١٦.٢: زيد عالم.
Zaid is a scholar.

A جملة فعلية can have a جملة اسمية in it.

شكل ١٩.٢: الله خَلَقَ السَّمَاءَ.
Allah created the sky.

شكل ١٨.٢: أنا أَكَلْتُ التُّفَّاحَةَ.
I ate an apple.

٣.٢ الجملة الإنشائية

١.٣.٢ خلاصة الدرس

الجملة الإنشائية are sentences which are not true or false. They are seeking an answer or sharing an opinion. These sentences generally rely on more advanced نحو concepts, so we will revisit examples of تركيب for these sentences in a later chapter. Below are the types of الجملة الإنشائية.

٣ المركب غير مفيدة

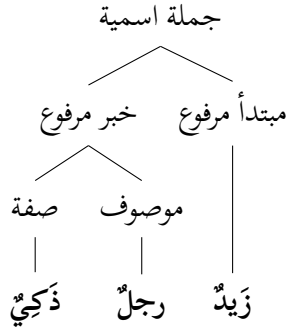

المركب غير مفيدة are incomplete sentences.

١.٣ المركب التوصيفي

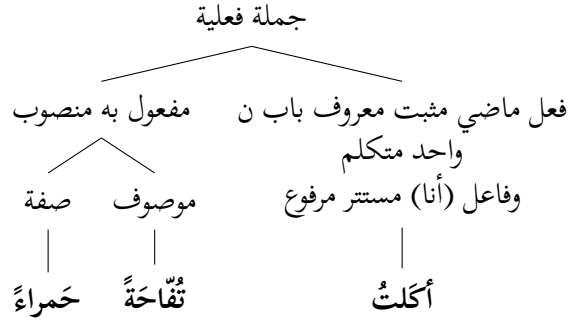

المركب التوصيفي are descriptive phrases. It consists of the مَوْصُوف (thing being described) and صِفَة (descriptor). The rules can be remembered by the صفة and موصوف matching in DING:

- Definiteness
- Traab
- Number
- Gender

شكل ٦.٣: زيدٌ رجلٌ ذكيٌّ
Zaid is a smart man.

شكل ٥.٣: أكلتُ تفاحةً حمراءَ
I ate a red apple.

٢.٣ المركب الإضافي

المركب الإضافي are possessive phrases. It consists of the مُضاف إليه (possessor) and مضاف (possession). The rules are:

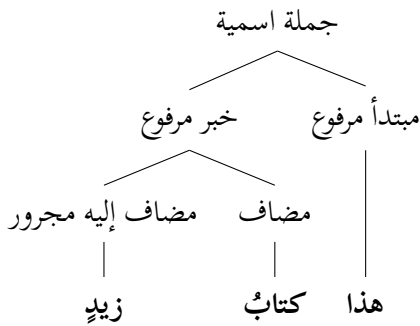

- The مضاف cannot take تنوين or ال.
- The مُضاف إليه is مجرور.
- The ن is dropped for a مضاف if it is تشبيه or جمع مذكر سالم.

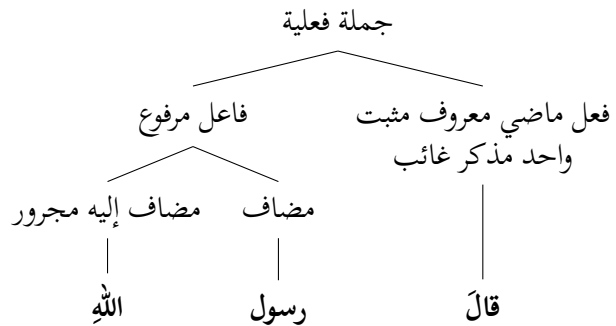

شكل ٨.٣: رسولُ الله ﷺ
The messenger of Allah

شكل ٧.٣: كتابُ الرجلِ
The man's book

شكل ١٠.٣: هذا كتابُ زيدٍ
That is Zaid's book

شكل ٩.٣: قال رسولُ الله ﷺ
The messenger of Allah said.
